The law classifies any device capable of going faster than 28 mph as motor vehicles and subjects their operators to the state's drunken driving laws. Chicago Sun-Times